EARLY EDUCATION

Child's development is directly related to early education and early education plays the most integral function in bringing out the best of children that only continues to grow through time gradually. It establishes the direction that the child could walk towards to and learns the moral values as well as about the surroundings and to know themselves.

At Childy's have a stable experienced and well maintained professional staff with expertise in child managements, child psychology along with education in child development. These are the fulcrum of our center, trained and equipped with skills to nurture and groom the future.

The activities and games are designed as learning tools giving those learning processes with entertainment. This enhances their quick thinking and motoring skills as well as creativity which continues to grow through time making them better in different fields of education.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Child's lifelong journey starts from being born to the age of 8 years. The social, emotional and physical development is vital because it is primarily responsible for the overall improvement of the child's abilities to think, learn and adapt.

The roots, the foundation always needs to be strong for a child to get better and know themselves and their understanding of the surrounding world. Physiological and psychological activities enhance their skills and development.

The children are raw and the nurturing brings out the best of them. The fundamental part is to provide them with safe, secure, friendly and caring environment with healthy entertaining activities, those activities which are helpful in their overall growth.

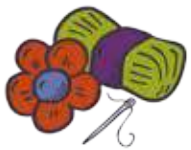

The purpose of providing learning through games and fun activities is to persuade and promote children to learn to socialize, discuss, team work, interact and participate

SUMMER/WINTER CAMP

Children holidays are the best of times for parents to utilize it for the betterment and disciplining their children and indulge them into activities which are fruitful for their development and growth rather than letting the children be free. We have established summer and winter camps every year during the summers and winters but that doesn't mean children have to feel sad thinking they're going to school and feel stressed.

These camps are primarily like carnivals filled with fun and healthy activities providing necessary entertainment to children yet educating and developing their overall skills.

We have programs for children aged 2 years to 5 years and for children from age 6 years to 12 years, respectively. Different activities keep children contemplating for more and something new every time which keeps them motivated, friendliness, socializing as well as teamwork enhances the will and interests to participate. Motivation is the key to a learning process.
